Chinese Families & Wealth – Overcoming Governance & Estate Planning Challenges

3.00pm	Chinese Families & Wealth – Overcoming Governance & Estate Planning Challenges

- Understanding the key issues faced by wealthy Chinese families in their estate and legacy planning
- What advances are we seeing in family and family business governance?
- How is the traditional Chinese family reconciling its traditions and culture with the demands of global compliance?
- How are the dynamics of multi-generational inclusion playing out, or are these families failing in this regard?
- What are the popular structures and jurisdictions that Mainland Chinese families are working towards and through, and why?
- What roles do Hong Kong and Singapore play in the region for Chinese family wealth, and for the consolidation of family wealth and estate planning through single-family offices?
- Who is doing well in winning these clients' trust and confidence? Is it the private banks, the independent wealth management firms, the lawyers, or other specialist firms?
- And what are the vital ingredients of success with such clients?
