9.10am Panel Discussion

How can I meet the new compliance expectations – but still make a profit?

- What are the main challenges?
- AML is the big topic in Singapore. Investment suitability is the big topic in Hong Kong. What's the difference between the approaches of these regulators?
- Is it possible to cut the cost of compliance?
- Can you navigate your way to a profitable and sustainable platform?
- With the fintech revolution underway – can the machines and the paper mesh up well? Or do compliance officers have to find a middle ground?
- There is a lot going on – how can you deal with it all?
- Can you turn risk and compliance into a competitive advantage?
- Risk heat map 2017 – what goes up, what goes down?
- What's next?

Panel Discussion

The blame game – in the politically correct world in which we live

- Are the current regulations risk-averse, or do they deal with the root causes?
- Are more regulations the answer?
- Disclaimers and exclusion clauses – will they destroy trust further and end the client relationship?
- Can we reduce repetitive box-ticking?
- Will technology save us?
- Do we have a choice?
- Is it inevitable that banks will be scrutinised more closely and in a more intrusive way?
- Are regulations in the different countries drifting apart? Is there a regulatory advantage for specific financial centres?
- Can financial institutions benefit working in or from a specific financial centre?

Tax is the next big topic – in case you didn't notice

- Automatic Exchange of Information and the Common Reporting Standard. What's the impact on you?
- What should you do and who are the best available providers?
- How have AML controls changed in light of BSI / Falcon Private Bank / 1MDB?
- Banks' client acceptance policies, DDC and account-opening processes – are they too painful and restrictive now?
- The due diligence required in opening accounts. What is enough?

1.45pm Panel Discussion

How can independent firms keep up?

- How can independent firms address complex and often conflicting regulatory regimes – especially from the perspective of implementation?
- Which banks have a competent platform qualified to serve IAM / EAM clients?
- What does a robust DDC / client on-boarding platform look like?
- What processes do we need to ensure we are not negatively impacting the client experience – and therefore discrediting the IAMs / EAMs?
- What's the impact of different client suitability regimes in Singapore and Hong Kong on independent firms?

3.20pm Panel Discussion

Living in the post-BSI world – no trust and a lot of verification required

- How can I make sure a BSI / Falcon-type situation doesn't happen to me?
- Do we have the right checks-and-balances at every level?
- Do senior management understand the risks?
- How must I document my processes? What level of detail is required?
- What is required today in terms of the audit trail for: Sign offs; Quality control – the person who is responsible is identified; On boarding – substantiated and corroboration
- What does this mean for you?
- Do your processes need to be improved?
- What is the standard that's required?

4.05pm Panel Discussion

The inconvenient truth of risk and compliance

- How will the regulatory and enforcement environment around conduct risk evolve over the next 12 months?
- Where will the next conduct enforcement shock come from?
- How will the world's regulators approach human mis-behaviour?
- How can authorities around the world consolidate and extend their powers of enforcement? Should they?
- Will enhanced personal accountability impact the quality of individuals applying for senior management roles?
