

China Wealth Management Forum 2016

8.40am Registration

9.00am Welcome Address

9.05am Panel Discussion

Wealth management in China - how can we take it to the next level?

- What's the opportunity that the wealth in China represents to you? How is it likely to develop?
- How do wealth management propositions, platforms and processes need to improve?
- How are the different business models evolving in the onshore wealth management market? And which one is most likely to win out in the long run?
- Which client segments should you focus on to be profitable? And how should you tailor your offering to them?
- Amid many scandals and cases of mis-selling – what do the regulators along with other stakeholders need to do to facilitate a more robust market?
- Can foreign banks create a profitable and sustainable offering?
- Should they compete or collaborate with onshore institutions?
- How can you participate in the increasing offshoring of Chinese wealth?

How to enhance the product and advisory proposition in China

- What are the biggest opportunities and challenges for the asset management industry in China?
- There is still a product-pushing mentality in China, and a lot of local investors are still very self-directed in terms of where, what and how to invest – how can we change that?
- What can we do to better educate customers and improve the levels of service and overall client experience?
- Domestic markets remain the major investment focus and allocation for wealthy Chinese, despite growing internationalisation of their investment strategy. What can we do to create and encourage global asset allocation?
- What products are Chinese investors looking for to create this diversification?
- With appetite moving beyond just investment products – what skills do we need to service wealthy Chinese investors?

 EY's Global Wealth Management Survey 2016

Jeroen Buwalda
 Partner, APAC Wealth and Asset Management Advisory Lead
 EY

- EY's wealth management practice surveyed more than 2,000 individual clients and 60 wealth management senior executives globally to demystify client experience and uncover potential revenue opportunities for wealth managers
- There is approximately USD120 trillion of client assets managed by global wealth managers, and 4 out of 10 clients are open to switching wealth managers under the right circumstance
- This represents a USD175 billion to USD200 billion global revenue opportunity for those firms willing to make strategic investments to deliver a superior client experience, while others may find themselves at risk of losing a substantial portion of their current business
