How Technology can be Harnessed to Drive Success in Asian Wealth Management

- What have we learnt from 2020? How will it shape the new-normal?
- Where are the biggest challenges and opportunities for private wealth managers in Asia today?
- What is coming next in the world of digital technologies and services that will further enhance the wealth management offering in the region?
- Is the priority greater internal efficiencies and cost savings, or enhancing the delivery of advice and solutions to the clients and thereby creating a far better and easier user experience?
- Has COVID-19 thrown up new opportunities?
- What are key areas where technology can make a big impact on growth? • How will you address your technology needs? Build, buy (outsource) or a combination of the two? Why?
- How can outsourcing non-core activities further accelerate your growth?
- What are the key criteria if you were to consider this? (Focus, efficient end-to-end secure platform, continued innovation and upgrades, cost efficiency, open to connect to select Fintech solutions, etc)
