9.05am Panel Discussion

Reengineering the offering: products and platform

- What does it mean today to 'add value' to a client?
- What do you need from your investment platform? How is that changing?
- How will you grow your platform in the next few years?
- Can a digital approach be innovative for the investment engine? Is it possible to deliver 'digital' advice?
- Should we be using AI / data / robo? Can it enhance the ability to make better investment decisions?
- To what extent do you see new firms – possibly digital - disrupting your business?
- Impact of key business trends like passive investments, fees and transparency?
- You had a great year in 2017. What's your revenue replacement strategy for the next two years? Is there a likelihood you will see outflows 2H this year?
- How important is 'credit' risk today? And other risk? How do you manage it?
- Where will net new assets (NNA) come from?

Managed Accounts in Asia

Managed accounts are one of the largest and fastest growing segments of the wealth management market globally, eclipsing $5 trillion of assets in the U.S. market alone. Increasingly they are available in Asia as an important tool for wealth managers to access third party asset managers to implement tailored and transparent solutions for their discretionary portfolio management clients.

- What is a managed account?
- How does it work?
- Making money for clients with managed accounts
- Why is a managed account relevant in Asia today?
- Who is Axial Partners?

Room B – Workshop

Emerging markets, the end of the goldilocks scenario?

Emerging market debts were one of the best performing asset class in 2017. However, this year so far, the external environment has become more challenging and the Turkey's crisis has led to concerns over the outlook of the asset class. Is it the end of the goldilocks scenario? Delphine Arrighi, EMD fund manager, will share with the audience opportunities and risks presented by the asset class.

- Fundamentals remain strong in EM as all have adjusted from their pre-taper tantrum imbalances
- The un-discriminated re-pricing across the asset class seems overdone and creates value
- Fundamental analysis remains key in times of stress
- Active trading and separate FX overlays to hedge global risk
- New frontier markets remain a key source of revenue generation and diversification

Investing for the Long Term: Portfolio allocation and managing investment risk

We discuss the challenge of investing for the long-term, which starts with clearly defining the goals of an investor. We consider the various investment options available, specifically in the context of return, risk and correlation characteristics. We then outline the process for portfolio allocation among the investment options, focusing on the issues of implementation in the real world, where returns are difficult to forecast and risk varies continuously.

- Investing goals
- Return, risk and correlation
- Portfolio allocation
- Managing investment risk

Panel Discussion

Relevant Investment ideas to discuss with clients today

- What are the main investment themes and the products that will be most relevant in 2H?
- How will you help clients shift mindset, investing style and portfolio holdings as the market transitions to a more volatile phase?
- Do frontier markets like Vietnam offer a viable investment opportunity today?
- What are some of the more interesting private equity opportunities today? How do clients access these opportunities?
- What is your current thinking about the role of fixed income and credit in HNW / UHNW clients' portfolios?
- Structured products to discuss with clients given current market conditions?
- When investing in credit - investors have for the last 8-10 years been rewarded for keeping liquidity and going down in credit quality. Is this still a smart thing to do?
- Equities: Thematic equities have received a lot of hype – some good / some bad. Whats the best way to find alpha and non-correlated returns?
- Equity – where is best? Where is worst?
